

TACC helps DadsWork and Includem

In early January, TACC supported the DadsWork and Includem charities by facilitating (via a generous gesture by SSE) for some families to attend the Marvel Universe Live show at the SSE Hydro in Glasgow.

You can see some photos from DadsWork. The kids (and dads) had a fantastic evening in a Private Suite which had the best views of the superb live show which had everyone fixated. One of the dads (Andrew Stevenson) said "A massive thanks to TACC and DadsWork for an incredible evening, Aidan and me had an epic time and Aidan was glued to the show and really enjoyed himself, thanks for an incredible night and an amazing start to 2017 !!!!"

Includem also sent some disadvantaged families to the event. Michael Shanks of Includem said "Just wanted to drop you a quick email to pass on the considerable thanks of all the young people who went along to the Marvel Universe Show last week. They all had a fantastic time and it was great to see them enjoying an event in amongst their otherwise very challenging daily lives. They really appreciated the invitation. Thanks again and best wishes for 2017 to you and all at the Tartan Army Childrens Charity."
